IDEAL SOCIETY

Section : 01

Taylan Kayalı
Tunahan Ünver
Çağrı Şanlı
Merve Bozdağ
Buse Karabıyık

What is Ideal Society

Our ideal society provides higher equality and entry to opportunity. There should be a well-ordered society for the benefit of all. Perfect societies embrace peace, justice, and order. There must be quality judicial and low crime rates as the obvious reason for that. Everyone should have an education that can fulfill their life and help them release their potential. With great education, individuals are expected to behave more responsibly towards nature and others around them. Individuals need to respect each other and their existence. Like Platon's Republic, our good city, Kallipolis, we aim for our perfect society for the joy and well-being of every individual and we think that our society should not be built on lies and fraud.

The Perfect Utopia

We have all wished that life's problems would go away and everything could be perfect. The World where no problems occur. We can imagine that perfect world in our Utopia. The Utopia that I imagine must have respect to environment. Such as using %100 renewable energy and fuel or like higher public transportation numbers for carbon net zero, because nature is our frend and future. Our kids are also our future. In that Utopia education must be free and must be accessible for eveyone. The lessons must be always supportive and relatible to daily life. The art must be Supportive too. It should boost our motive to live and give us inspration. That way we can make our jobs more efficient and we can boost our Economical state and also we can supply and support our society better so we can build an society that dont have economical discramination. With that foundation Utopian society must be ingrained to theirselfs.

The First Age

the idea of "the work each person does being a natural process" was very much the norm.
Platon, who was a philosopher in this era, suggests that each individual in a society should be educated according to their own nature and potential, also the job each person does needs to be certain.

The Middle age in Europe

life of the individuals was ruled with the rules of the religion and the Church was the absolute authority. Because of that there wasn't much ideas about ideal society.

The Enlightenment

people got rid of the strict rules of religion and put science and humanity at the center of life.
utopias were created with a design based on pure science, the identity and equality of the society were emphasized

> Guide the people by law, regulate them by punishment; they may shun crime, but they will not have a sense of shame. Guide them by virtue, regulate them by courtesy; they will learn the sense of shame and grow to become good.

Konfüçyüs

> The society we have described can never grow into a reality or see the light of day, and there will be no end to the troubles of states, or indeed, my dear Glaucon, of humanity itself, till philosophers become rulers in this world, or till those we now call kings and rulers really and truly become philosophers, and political power and philosophy thus come into the same hands.

Platon

> I have cherished the ideal of a democratic and free society in which all persons live together in harmony and with equal opportunities.

Nelson Rolihlahla Mandela

PYRAMIDE A RENVERSER