TEDU 102: Service Learning Journey

This course was designed to;

- help students develop a critical perspective and ethical approach in working with people in different communities and community-based organizations through theories, practices, community-engaged projects, NGO collaborations, and field activities.

Throughout the 14 weeks of dedicated efforts, students;

- learnt leadership and effective communication skills
- raised their awareness regarding sustainable development

TEDU 102: Service Learning Journey

We congratulate all our students for;

- doing community engagement projects and working in context with NGOs and other stakeholders;
- addressing the needs of the community;
- developing community engagement projects that would bring mutually beneficial partnerships.

Introducing TEDU102 with Numbers

- 7 sections - 350 students
- 4 instructors and many TEDU teaching and technical staff were on the team.
- 33 stakeholders supported and collaborated with our students.
- 18 mentor students helped TEDU102 students during their project implementation.
- Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL), and all faculties at TEDU were involved in this greater cause.

A large, glossy red puzzle piece is shown fitting into a white puzzle. The red piece is in the foreground, slightly offset to the left, and its shape is a standard interlocking puzzle piece. The white puzzle pieces are arranged in a grid-like pattern around it, with some pieces already in place and others missing, creating a sense of a larger whole being assembled. The lighting is soft, highlighting the smooth texture and interlocking edges of the pieces.

Our Partners

- Our students' projects could not have been actualized without the support of NGOs and our stakeholders.
- We received support from 18 NGOs and 15 schools of MoNE.
- We would like to express our deepest thanks to them and their staff.
- We would like to mention the name of our stakeholders to honor their contribution and seal our partnership for future collaboration as part of the TEDU102: Service-Learning Course.
